1	Nepal has been banned solo mountaineers from	been
2	climbing Mount Everest and other peaks. It is an	✓
3	attempt to reduce the number of the accidents and
4	make climbing more safer. From now on all foreign
5	climbers will even need a guide to get to the top of the
6	world's highest mountains.
7	Since 1920 more than 300 people have died over trying
8	to reach the top hill of the world's highest mountain.
9	Most of the deaths have occurred within the last 40
10	years. A few months ago, an 85-year-old mountaineer
11	has died in an attempt to be the oldest human to
12	just reach the top of Mount Everest.
13	Although mountaineers must die for a number of
14	reasons, almost every fifth death is caused by acute
15	mountain sickness. Few Nepalese officials have stated
16	that they will check into medical certificates of climbers
17	to see if they are only physically capable of climbing the
18	mountain.
19	The country also hopes that the new passing law will
20	create more jobs for sherpas, the local people who lead
21	old mountaineers to the peak. According to statistics,
22	over 4500 climbers have finally reached the top of Mount
23	Everest since Sir Edmund Hillary's historic climb in 1953.
