

A magazine is planning to publish a special section on immigration. It has asked readers to send in their opinions on the problems that immigrants have in their new country. You have decided to take part and send in an essay.

In your essay (about 300 words) write about

- why people want to leave their home country
- the kind of life immigrants leave behind
- the problems that they face in their new country
- how long it may take them to fit in with their new environment

Room for corrections

